COINTUM EXCHANGE

You don't need any. It's very easy to start. We guide you through every step. The first step is to register and open an account. Once you have opened an account you can trade a wide range of currency pairs. Trading is simple. All you need to do is to place an order. If you want to buy, say what currency you want to buy and how much and in what currency you will pay. You can set the price you want or take the best market price. If you are selling, say what you want to sell and how much and the currency you want the buyer to pay. Again set a price or take the best market rate. Not sure about prices? Take a look at the orders others have put up and select the one that meets your needs. Still not sure whether it's for you? Then take a look at our FAQs and the on-line training guide in the Help section of About Cointum.
